

News from the Library ... Prayer

After a long and busy summer, let's prepare for autumn and FALL for books again!!

One truly timeless selection in our Delta Church Library can be found in the subject area of Prayer. So very often, we long for this "instant connection", but fail to hear and are unable to listen.

"Teach me to pray" by W.E. Sangster is a wonderful introduction to prayer and addresses our most practical questions, such as how to deal with a wandering mind or how to find time in our busy schedules. Ronald Dunn attempts to "eavesdrop on Jesus" when he offers a fresh and unique perspective on the topic of prayer.

Among the classics of spiritual writing, you will find C.S. Lewis "Letters to Malcolm: Chiefly on Prayer" moving and inspiring. And there is more: various prayer selections for women, special advise on how to teach your children to pray and personal testimonials about the power of prayer in difficult and threatening situations.

"Slowing down ... to be with God", that is the intention of Bill Hybels and his book "Too busy NOT to pray". Please come, share and enjoy the treasures our library has to offer.
